Sheriff's House ideas wanted

First State National Historical Park will host OPEN HOUSE for Public Comment on the Sheriff's House

First State National Historical Park (NHP) is requesting your input in developing a rehabilitation and use plan for the Sheriff's House in New Castle, DE at a public scoping meeting on Tuesday, January 26th, from 3:30-6:30pm at the New Castle Court House and Museum. The National Park Service (NPS) invites you to participate in the project planning process to identify potential uses for the Sheriff's House, environmental impacts, issues, concerns, and alternative concepts. Developing a rehabilitation and use plan is our effort to review conceptual plans to see what options exist for the interior of the Sheriff's House. We are also developing a historic structure report which will inform the design concept plan process. Keep in mind that any rehabilitation will be several years away and contingent upon funding. Continued on page 6

A long-time favorite dining destination for generations of New Castle families has closed. On the site of Howard Johnson's the Lone Star opened nearly twenty years ago as one of the area's first 'steak house' restaurants.

The chain is keeping its restaurant off Route 202 in north Wilmington. Gift cards are honored at that location.

Between 2002 and 2012, Lone Star Steakhouse U.S. sales fell by $289 million, the fifth largest drop among restaurants. Lone Star has suffered from tremendous competition. Competing restaurants in the $12-to-$20 steakhouse segment such as LongHorn and Texas Roadhouse on near-by Rt.40 have siphoned their customer base. We'll be missing the blooming onions, sweet potatoes with great steaks and burgers along with peanut shells scatter about the floor.

wingless Buffalo Chicken pizza

Last week Rachel Ray stopped by the CobbleTestKitchen to share this treat with my readers this just in time for Super Bowl Sunday entertaining, here's a combination of two classic favorites: pizza and Buffalo wings!

get at market or pull from pantry

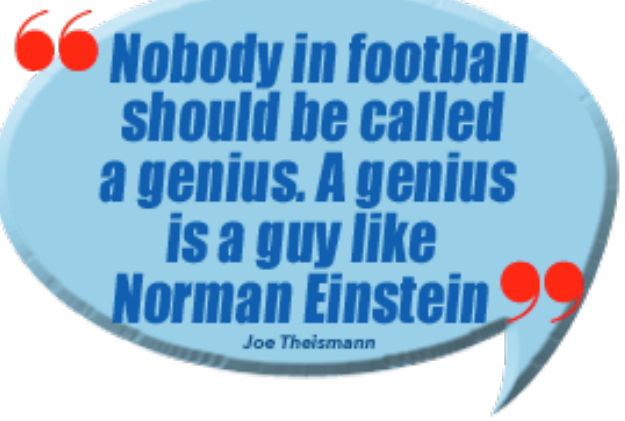

¾ lb chicken breast cutlets • Extra-virgin olive oil, for drizzling
2 tps grill seasoning • 1 pizza dough • Cornmeal or flour, to handle dough • 2 tbsps butter • 1 tbsps Worcestershire, eyeball it • 2 to 3 tbsps hot sauce • ½ cup tomato sauce • 1 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese, a few generous handfuls
1/2 cup blue cheese crumbles • 3 scallions, thinly sliced

here's makin' it

Preheat oven to 425° • Preheat grill pan to high.

- Place chicken on a plate and drizzle extra-virgin olive oil over the chicken then season with grill seasoning. When grill is hot, add chicken and cook about 3 minutes on each side.
- Stretch dough to form pizza using cornmeal or flour to help you handle it. If you let it rest and warm up a few minutes it will handle even easier. Set pizza on pizza pan to the side and clean board.
- In a medium skillet over medium heat, melt butter and stir in Worcestershire, hot sauce, and tomato sauce.
- Remove the chicken from grill and thinly slice it. Add chicken to sauce and coat. Cover the pizza dough with the saucy Buffalo chicken, cheeses, and scallions. Bake 18 minutes or until crisp. Watch Rachael make this.

The purpose of the scoping meeting is to provide an opportunity for interested individuals and organizations to learn about the planning process and provide their thoughts, ideas, and concerns for the future use and management of the Sheriff's House. Posters and other information about the Sheriff's House will be available for the public to review. NPS staff will be on hand to answer questions and to accept public comments. There will not be a formal presentation so interested parties may arrive at any time between 3:30 – 6:30 p.m. to share their thoughts.

Following the meeting, the NPS will accept your comments and ideas for a 30-day period and begin to develop general alternatives for the rehabilitation and use of the Sheriff's House. By mid-March, the alternatives will be used to conduct an environmental assessment which will be distributed for public review and comment during the summer of 2016.

More information about the project can be found at the park's planning website at <http://parkplanning.nps.gov/SheriffsHouse>. Comments on the project may be submitted by attending the public scoping meeting or by submitting them electronically on the planning website (noted above). All information presented at the public scoping meeting will be uploaded to the website following the meeting. Thank you for your continued interest in First State NHP. Your participation will help shape the future of the Sheriff's House.

Bubble Wrap Window Insulation

Here's a simple technique for insulating windows with bubble wrap packing material. Bubble wrap is often used to insulate greenhouse windows in the winter. It works great for windows of irregular shape, which can be difficult to find insulating shades for.

The view through the bubble wrapped window is fuzzy, so don't use it on windows where you need a clear view. But, it does let plenty of light through. Most popular are the medium to large size bubbles. The larger ones appear (from surface temperature measurements) to insulate a little better, and you still get a nice artistic effect looking out of them. The small bubble wrap totally obscures the view, but you still get light. Most people seem to prefer the large bubble version. Installation

Cut the bubble wrap to the size of the window pane with scissors.

Spray a film of water on the window using a spray bottle.

Apply the bubble wrap while the window is still wet and press it into place.

The bubble side goes toward the glass.

To remove the bubble wrap, just pull it off starting from a corner. You can save it and use it for several years. It does not leave a mess or stains on the window glass.

If you have trouble with the bubble wrap separating from the window when the film dries, you can try adding a little Glycerin to the water, but this probably won't be necessary.

Give your smart phone a rest!

2 new options to capture 2016 events

The iconic Kodak Super 8 film camera is back!

Lovers of old-school analog film cameras rejoice, for Kodak is reviving the iconic 'Super 8' film camera—albeit as an updated model for the digital age.

The new camera blends the magic of shooting in film with newer technology such as a 3.5-inch swiveling viewfinder, built-in light meter, exposure control, and a rechargeable battery powered via a USB wall adaptor. Images are captured on Super 8 Kodak film, with each cartridge containing 50 feet of film.
