New Castle welcomes....

Twas a sunny yesterday that proved to be a good omen for the opening of the Brandywine Valley SPCA at the long vacant B&E site on South Street. Many residents of all ages came to greet the new nonprofit and welcomed the many kittens and pups at this renovated 12,500 sq.ft. campus.

This new member of the community hopes to advocate on behalf of stray, abandoned and homeless pets, while providing a safe place for them to find a new home. BVSPCA said they will offer low-cost veterinary services including examinations, vaccines and spay/neuter surgery that will be available by late spring for all Castilian pets! Their goal is to make Delaware the first no-kill State in the nation, a fitting title for the first state indeed. Their goal will come to life through the passion of their staff, partnerships in the community, and most importantly by the support of compassionate residents of Delaware. Our welcomed new neighbors are eager to partner with the many New Castle events. Cobblestones suggests you stop by...if just for a smile, pat for a pet!

New Castle Girl Scout Troop 312, which meets at George Read Middle School, and has girls from Kindergarten (Daisy level) up to 7th grade (Cadette Level), has been the top selling troop in their Service Unit for three years now.
 Eight girls are successfully completed their Junior Bronze Award, by creating care baskets and information on caring for newly adopted pets from the animal shelter. Now they are busy planning their Silver

Award Projects. The girls are also busy planning fun trips too. So far, camping tops the list, with trips to a water park and the zoo coming in second and third. Their leader, Carrie Straub, is incredibly proud of how responsible and caring the girls have become. If you are craving Girl Scout cookies, it's not too late to satisfy your cravings! Use the link condensed combination of broth, wine and cranberry juice with herbs and spices blended in. It's truly a great experience.

Braised Sirloin Tips

can easily be made in a slow cooker or on top of the stove. The gravy is rich Gather up....

- 2 lbs of sirloin beef tips or sirloin steak cut into pieces.
- 1 c. of all purpose flour • 1 tsp of salt • 1 tsp of fresh ground black pepper • 3 tbs of extra virgin olive oil • 2 tbs of butter • 1 yellow onion, chopped • 3 carrots, cut into stalks of celery, cut into chunks • 3 cloves of garlic, chopped • 1 tsp of dried oregano • 1 tsp of dried thyme • 1 c. of beef broth • 1/2 c. of red wine (what you set aside for yourself is up to you) • 1/2 c. of cranberry juice • 1 pkg whole white button mushrooms • 1/4 c. of fresh Italian flat leaf parsley

Start cookin'....

• In a medium size bowl, mix together the flour, salt and pepper. • Dredge the beef in the flour and shake off the excess flour. • In a crock pot or large pot, brown the meat in the oil and butter on all sides. • Remove the meat from the pan and set aside. • Add the onions, carrots, celery and garlic and sauté for 2 to 3 minutes. Return the meat to the pot. • Season with the oregano and thyme. • Add the broth, wine and cranberry juice and bring to a boil. • Reduce the heat, cover and simmer for around 1 to 1 and 1/2 hours until the meat is tender. Remove the meat from the pan. • In a separate saucepan sauté the mushrooms in a little oil for 3 minutes. Using a strainer or a sieve, strain all the onion mixture into the saucepan with the mushrooms pushing everything through the strainer. • Heat the sauce and reduce by half.

Oh, the mashed potatoes ... experience shows Bob Evans has the variety ya want without the added hassle!

Parmesan or Wood Pulp?

Cellulose is a safe additive, and an acceptable level is 2 percent to 4 percent, according to a noted cheese technologist at the Center for Dairy Research in Madison, Wisconsin.

Essential Everyday 100% Grated Parmesan Cheese, from Jewel-Osco, was 8.8 percent cellulose, while Wal-Mart's Great Value 100% Grated Parmesan Cheese registered 7.8 percent, according to test results. Whole Foods 365 brand didn't list cellulose as an ingredient on the label, but still tested at 0.3 percent. Kraft had 3.8 percent.

BRANDY alexander

One of the earliest known printed recipes for the Alexander can be found in Hugo Ensslin's 1916 Recipes for Mixed Drinks. The cocktail, was likely born at Rector's, New York's premier pre-Prohibition lobster palace. The bartender there, a certain Troy Alexander, created his eponymous concoction in order to serve a white drink at a dinner celebrating Phoebe Snow (a fictitious character used in an advertising campaign for the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad.)

Ingredients

- 2 oz Cognac or other fine aged brandy
- 1 oz Dark crème de cacao
- 1 oz Cream
- Garnish: Freshly grated nutmeg

Here's how

Add all the ingredients to a cocktail shaker and fill with ice. Shake, and strain into a chilled cocktail glass. Garnish with freshly grated nutmeg.

The likes of Duke Ellington,
Ella Fitzgerald and the Ray
Charles entertained audiences in Sussex county!

Oak Orchard became popular, however, at a time when segregation was still a very real part of life in Sussex County and throughout the United States. It was largely a place for white folks to gather, but no worries-members of the area's black community had what they considered to be an ever better gathering spot, the once-thriving community of Rosedale.

Just west of Oak Orchard, ROSEDALE BEACH was a happening place in the summertime as black men, women and children often danced the night away at the community's dance hall. The village became so popular that big band performers like Duke Ellington, Ella Fitzgerald and the Ink Spots entertained the masses on the shores of the Indian River during Rosedale's glory years of the 1920s. While it was a gathering spot for blacks, many white neighbors were determined not to be left out, often listening to the sweet sounds from boats in the middle of the river.

Rosedale flourished year after year until the end of World War II. After the war, the era of the big bands died out, and so did Rosedale. A housing development now stands where thousands of Sussex Countians once swayed to the music of some of history's greatest musical performers.

CSA Sign-up Day!

Across the country, farmers are celebrating Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) on Friday, February 26th. CSAs are an important way for farmers to get a head start on the growing season and offer you the opportunity to support local agriculture.

From June through October, you can enjoy a weekly box of fresh, nutritious vegetables grown right at Historic Penn Farm and receive a free annual family membership to Delaware Greenways.

Our Historic Penn Farm partner, Toby Hargerott of Against the Grain Farm, (see page 5) is generously offering to donate one Delaware Greenways family membership for each CSA full share sold on February 26th. This is your chance to support Toby, a dedicated local farmer, and Delaware Greenways at the same time.
