Bromeliads

are one of the most popular and easy-to-care-for houseplants. With more than 2,000 varieties and counting, these tropical plants come in a huge variety of shapes, colors and sizes – any of them sure to make a unique addition to your home. Learn how to propagate these striking plants for months of exotic indoor blooms, and find some creative ways to display bromeliads in your home.

Caring for bromeliads

- Water the center cup or "vase" of the plant, and change the water in the cup about once a month. Occasionally water the base of the plant, making sure the soil dries out between waterings.

- Use a cloth rag to wipe away any dust that may collect on the foliage.

Bromeliads have trichomes on the surface of their leaves. These water-absorbing scales help the plant absorb water as well as shield the plant from solar radiation in desert climates.

- Place bromeliads in a bright location like an east- or west-facing window. Don't position them in direct sunlight that can damage and burn the leaves. THE VIDEO

Announcing the 2019 Harry N. Baetjer III

Junior Fellows Program

at the Delaware Historical Society

The Delaware Historical Society (DHS) invites applications for the Harry N. Baetjer III Junior Fellows Program, a paid summer internship for students entering the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades. Five fellowships will be awarded on a competitive basis for the 2019 session, either at the DHS downtown Wilmington campus or at the Read House & Gardens, its National Historic Landmark property in Old New Castle. The program is made possible by a generous gift from Michelle and David Shepherd.

Baetjer Fellows of all backgrounds and interests gain vital academic and life experience through hands-on projects, discussion of readings, and the mentorship of senior staff members. Their projects include important work with rare artifacts, site and gallery interpretation, and historical research.

Application Deadline March 8, 2019

How to Apply
Follow the link below to begin your online application. No cover letter or resume is necessary: the webform will give you an opportunity to describe your interests and aptitude as they pertain to the Baetjer Program. A select number of applicants will then be invited to join us for an interview.

Letter of Recommendation
In addition to your online application, please ask a teacher, mentor, or supervisor to evaluate your academic abilities, work ethic, and/or aptitude for the program. Please refer your recommender to this page for information on the program. Letters of recommendation should be sent directly to Brenton Grom, Director, Read House & Gardens at bgrom@dehistory.org.

Scheduling
Your individual work as a Baetjer Fellow will total 72 hours between June and August, to be scheduled at the time you sign your contract. You will also be asked to attend a group orientation in June and to give a brief presentation on your work in August. These components will be scheduled according to mutual availability. All components of the program will take place at the Delaware Historical Society's Wilmington campus, in the 500 block of North Market Street.

Stipend
$599, issued upon completion of the program. If you wish to log community service hours in lieu of the stipend, please indicate this on your application form.
