Drink up New Castle!

LEAD MONITORING in MSC's Water System

Issues with lead in Flint Michigan have people asking questions....the issue in Flint was primarily due to the City switching to a different water source without adding corrosion control chemicals to stabilize the water. Unlike Flint, the Municipal Services Commission (MSC) adds sodium hexametaphosphate to coat the water mains. In addition, they monitor for lead in accordance with the State of Delaware's Office of Drinking Water requirements.

New Castle homes are selected for testing and the homeowner is requested to collect a water sample. The MSC staff sends the sample to Eurofins QC laboratory. Results of the testing are shared with the homeowner along with informational materials regarding common sources of lead in drinking water. If a lead exceedance occurs the MSC increases the frequency in testing and educates the homeowner on the issue and possible solutions. The MSC is currently testing twice per year.

The MSC water supervisors and operators have all had extensive training and are all certified with the State of Delaware. You can be assured they are aware of safe drinking water requirements and are proactive in maintaining a water system that is in compliance with regulations.

If you have any questions regarding your drinking water please feel free to contact Pamela A. Patone, General Manager or Jay Guyer, Water Supervisor at 302-323-2330.

Bacon Wrapped Cheese Fries

Tator Tot Bombs... a tator tot wrapped in bacon and smothered in melted cheese.

YUM!

Well, pops no tator tots (it's my fault, long story) so I improvised and used frozen crinkle french fries.

I cut the slices of bacon in thirds and wrapped each piece around three or four french fries bundled together.

They turned out AWESOME and make a fantastic appetizer or game day food. We (the ladies) ate them while playing Skip bo and they (the guys) ate them while watching a football game.

They were great plain but dipping them in barbecue sauce was pretty fantastic as well.

Quick, find and excuse to make these. You'll be glad you did.

on the counter please

- 8 sliced of bacon, cut into thirds • 75-100 crinkle style frozen french fries
- 1 cup cheddar cheese, shredded • Barbecue Sauce, optional

1. Preheat oven to 400°
2. Line a cookie sheet with tinfoil and spray lightly with cooking spray
3. Take three or four french fries at once, bundle together, sit them at one end of a piece of bacon and roll up.
4. Place on cookie sheet seam side down and repeat with remaining fries and bacon pieces
5. Bake for 20-25 minutes or until bacon looks crispy and fries are tender, sprinkle with cheese and return to oven for 2-3 minutes or until cheese is melted
6. Serve with barbecue sauce for dipping if desired

We were all happy!

TED WALSH SELECTED ARTIST-IN-RESIDENCE

This March, Delaware's own national park, First State National Historical Park will host painter Ted Walsh, of Vineland, NJ. The residency will run until April 4th, and the artist will work at various locations around the state-wide park.

The National Parks Arts Foundation (NPAF), a 501(c)3 non-profit, is thrilled to be working with First State NHP to pilot the inaugural Artist-in-Residence program. "We are tremendously excited to host First State National Historical Park's inaugural Artist-in-Resident. The program will offer the public another way to connect with our beautiful natural and cultural resources, perhaps to see them in a new light," said Superintendent Ethan McKinley. "The park's Artist-in-Residence selection was highly competitive, with applications streaming in from around the country and even from abroad. Ted will be a great fit for the park and we can't wait to see how he will use his talent to interpret this beautiful place."

During the residency, the artist will work and chat with the public as he paints in plein air, in addition to public programs and lectures on how this area's history has been captured in art. Walsh is energized by the opportunity to teach and learn from the park's visitors. Walsh added, "In conjunction with the new body of work I'll produce from the park, I plan to develop a public lecture to study and discuss the history of painters that have been drawn to this region. The development of these artists is, in my view, both relevant and influential to a broad range of artists working today."

Walsh, like many artists from the northeast, has been drawn to the living history, colonial ambiance, and beautiful open lands that are found at First State NHP, one of the nation's newest national parks. "I think what pulled me to First State NHP is my deep connection to this region."

As a child the dreamy illustrations of the Brandywine artists dominated my artistic education. I have walked plein air sites, with paint in hand, until I found the exact spots where the Wyeths' stood."

The residency location is just outside Wilmington, about a mile from the Delaware-Pennsylvania border, in the center of the pastoral Beaver Valley unit of First State NHP. This Brandywine landscape, deep in the heart of what artists call "Wyeth Country," inspired multiple generations of the Wyeth family and countless other painters.

For more information on Ted Walsh, visit his website for a look at his other projects. Please visit the National Parks Arts Foundation website for more information on other artist-in-residence opportunities. If you would like to learn more about the history of the park and the cultural and natural resources it interprets, please visit nps.gov/frst, or contact us at frststate@nps.gov.

NEW CASTLE LITTLE LEAGUE

The drama was predictable, reminiscent of the bloomn' meadows last year. This episode had home team New Castle Little League facing their landlord the Trustees of the New Castle Common. The Trustee began discussing the Little League site last January. Trustees President Tommy Wilson has been worried about potential lawsuits from unregulated additions there over the years.

Bases really got loaded after the News Journal's partially inaccurate article February 23rd that sparked rumors (what else is expected) and flared the social media scene. The removal (not this season) of the t-ball diamond ❶ and fencing in that area for possible future commercial use was the issue that started the rumor mill. Trustees President Wilson said "we have to look towards what the needs may be in, say, the next fifty years." Later he mentioned, off the cuff, that someday a market would be nice. There are no plans for anything now or on the horizon.

The safety of the children and spectators is the main concern. For years parents and spectators have parked on the shoulder by the complex and it's fortunate there hasn't been an accident. LL parking will now be in the lighted Bellanca parking lot ❷. A partially paved path ❸ to the fields will be extended and lights installed. Out of code playground equipment ❹ has been removed. This drainage ditch ❺ will be dug out, corrugated pipe installed and top-filled. A temporary road ❻ and parking area for players' families will need to be removed. A playground/park ❼ is planned behind the complex for the Washington Park children.

A follow up meeting with league officials and trustees cleared many of the misunderstanding on both sides. The Trustee plan to spend approx. $60,000 making these improvements. Joe DiStefano, Little League Association President thanked the Trustees and added. "There comes a point in life where you have to trust people and believe the things they tell you are truthful,"

New Castle Girl Scout Troop 312, which meets at George Read Middle School, and has girls from Kindergarten (Daisy level) up to 7th grade (Cadette Level), has been the top selling troop in their Service Unit for three years now.

Eight girls are successfully completed their Junior Bronze Award, by creating care baskets and information on caring for newly adopted pets from the animal shelter. Now they are busy planning their Silver Award Projects. The girls are also busy planning fun trips too. So far, camping tops the list, with trips to a water park and the zoo coming in second and third. Their leader, Carrie Straub, is incredibly proud of how responsible and caring the girls have become.

If you are craving Girl Scout cookies, it's not too late to satisfy your cravings! Use the link

The coxcomb barbermonger bellied up to the bar and with callow, ordered a drink. The bartender delivered the drink cacophonously. As the bellicose man enjoyed his potation, he engaged in a supercilious conversation with a blotter sitting next to him. The varlet man swindled the guy into buying him another drink. When the maudlin gent asked for one in return for his kindness, the splenetic man paltered with his tendentious ramblings. The sophist bartender took up for the gent and booted the narcissistic guy out of the bar.
