IDES OF MARCH

In the ancient Roman calendar, each of the 12 months had an 'ides' of the month. In March, May, July and October, the ides fell on the 15th day. In all other months, the ides fell on the 13th. The word 'ides' was derived from the Latin "to divide." The ides were originally meant to mark the full moon, but since the solar calendar months and lunar months were of different lengths, the ides eventually lost their original intent and purpose. We only remember March as the month that has Ides because it was on this day that Roman Emperor Julius Caesar was assassinated. William Shakespeare helped to promote the Ides of March. He sure knew how to run a PR campaign

On March 6th, the New Castle City Police arrested a New York man for multiple counts of credit card fraud and other related charges. A City officer was at the BJ's Wholesale Club in Airport Plaza following up a credit card fraud case from last month when he was alerted by a store employee that the same suspect was now in the BJ's liquor store attempting to purchase several cases of liquor on a fraudulent credit card. When the officer responded to the Liquor Store, the suspect fled and got in to an awaiting vehicle. The vehicle was stopped a short while later in the Wells Fargo Bank lot, and the operator of the vehicle was taken into custody without incident. Charged with multiple counts the suspect was committed to the Young Correctional Facility in lieu of $17,600.00 secured bond pending a preliminary hearing.

LIME POKE CAKE

Make this dessert with not-too-sweet buttermilk and very lightly sweetened whipped cream. The cake tastes best just lightly chilled, so let it warm up a bit while you whip the cream for the topping"
Food Network Kitchens

Cake

1 c (2 sticks) unsalted butter, softened, plus more for greasing pan
2 1/2 c all-purpose flour
1/2 tsp baking powder
1/2 tsp baking soda
1/2 tsp fine salt
1 1/4 c buttermilk, well shaken

2 tps pure vanilla extract
2 c granulated sugar
3 large eggs, lightly beaten

One 3-ounce box lime gelatin

Topping

2 c heavy cream, cold
1 tbsp granulated sugar
2 tps pure vanilla extract
Green sanding sugar

Here's the how to...

Set oven rack in the lower third of the oven and preheat to 350° & butter the bottom and sides of a 9-by-13-inch pan.

Whisk the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt in a medium bowl; set aside. Whisk the buttermilk and vanilla in a spouted measuring cup set aside.

Beat the granulated sugar and butter in a stand mixer (or a large bowl if using a hand mixer) at medium speed until very light in color and fluffy, about 5 minutes, scraping down the sides of the bowl as needed. With the mixer still running on medium, slowly add the eggs and beat until fully incorporated. Reduce the speed to the lowest setting; with the mixer running, add 1/3 of the flour mixture, then 1/2 of the buttermilk mixture, then 1/2 of the remaining flour mixture, then the remaining buttermilk mixture, then the remaining flour mixture. Scrape down the sides and beat until well mixed.

Spread the batter into the prepared pan. Bake until golden brown and a toothpick comes out clean when inserted in the center of the cake, about 30 minutes, rotating the pan halfway through. Let cool for 30 minutes in the pan. Use a large fork to poke holes an inch apart in the top and all the way through the cake.

Bring 1 c water to a boil, pour over the gelatin in a medium bowl and stir until completely dissolved, about 2 minutes. Stir in 1/2 c cold water. Pour the mixture evenly over the cooled cake. Refrigerate for 2 hours. Put a large bowl (for whipping the cream) in the refrigerator.

Remove the cake from the refrigerator. Whip the cream with the granulated sugar and vanilla in the chilled bowl until fluffy. Spread it over the cake and sprinkle the sanding sugar on top. Slice and serve.
