

2013

What a year it was! 2013 saw new attractions & events in town, while we enjoyed our treasured annual ones as well. We reached milestones, lost some good friends and said hello some new ones. We're not a National Park but a Monument in the National Park Service. No major storms but record heat and the arrival of a winter that's to be long remembered.

As Cobblestones begins its 5th year recording the events and life around us...let's all have fun and enjoy good health and happiness...everyday! - Teditor
