Celebration!

Last Sunday, 100 years ago, the brand new Ahrens Fox Fire Engine was delivered by rail car to the fire company. The pumper was placed in service almost immediately, handling its first alarm nine days after delivery and was in service until the 1955 "B" Model Mack was placed into service. After that, the Ahrens Fox sat in a reservoir status and then in various states of disrepair in garages around town. In 1986, Chief Grover P Ingle organized and initiated a full on refurb with Andy Swift and Firefly Restorations of Maine. After almost 4 years, the fully restored and fully operational Ahrens Fox returned to New Castle on December 20th, 1990. The Ahrens Fox currently sits in its own bay that replicates the old fire house. Still operational, the "Fox" can be seen leading the Separation Day Parade, on display during Day in Old New Castle and other events, and escorting Santa around town.

The following VIDEO is a collection of photos that has been assembled showing the life and restoration of the Ahrens Fox.

A NEW YEAR

Cobblestones began nine years ago. Initially aimed at a few friends with a dozen plus emails, it has grown to over 900 mailings every Sunday morning (before the coffee's ready) and reaching a faithful following via social media.

The goal and scope of Cobblestones continues. Community news and history is the tenet. Serving community organizations, churches and individuals with a voice is our mission. Support from paid advertisers is essential and offers area businesses an economical manner in which to reach customers and introduce themselves to new members of our community.

I strive to offer newsy tidbits from all of New Castle's communities, for their stories, happenings and pictures of recent events. The interactive links throughout offers a wider range of information. I count on my "Cobbles" as stringers to share that news with you.

Thank you for the growth and support. Here's looking forward to a great 10th Volume!

Sincerely,  Teditor

Ribeye in the oven!

The good thing is, it is possible to cook a steak in the oven – and for the steak to be delicious. As long as you have a good cast iron skillet, a nice cut of meat, and maybe even a little butter, you'll be more than okay when it comes to cooking steak in the oven. Here's a ribeye steak recipe you're going to enjoy. Not only are you getting a beautiful cut of meat cooked in the oven, but I've added rosemary roasted potatoes and topped everything with a herbal, fresh chimichurri sauce. Together, these can be served with other roasted vegetables of your choice. If you don't want the potatoes or the sauce, I still recommend using the oil and butter as described in the recipe – the oil will help sear in the juices and the butter, well, who doesn't want a little bit more butter in their lives?

Need a drink to pair with this steak meal?

Why not try a few fingers of one of these whiskeys?

gotta have

1 ribeye steak (16-oz) - 1 tsp vegetable oil - 2 tbsp butter - 3 garlic cloves, roughly chopped - Salt and pepper to taste

let's cook

1. Take a cast iron skillet, place it in the oven, and preheat to 450° (You want the pan to be the temperature of the oven for an even cooking time and temperature.)
2. Brush both sides of the steak with oil and season with salt and pepper.
3. Once the oven has heated, remove the skillet and place it on the stovetop over medium heat.
4. Sear one side of the steak for two minutes. Flip the steak, top with garlic, and place in the oven for around six minutes. (This is where the oven comes in.)
5. Put steak back on stovetop over low heat. Flip the steak again and top with butter.
6. Tilt the pan so you can scoop up the butter and garlic and continually coat for one to three minutes, depending on your desired doneness. Use a meat thermometer to confirm desired doneness: rare (125°), medium-rare (135°), medium (145°), medium-well (150°), and well-done (160°) please don't Remember, too, that the temperature will rise slightly during the next step, resting. Just because you've taken it out of the oven does not mean that the steak will stop cooking at that very second.
7. Let rest for five minutes, then top with browned butter and chimichurri sauce before serving.

51st ANNUAL GREAT DELAWARE KITE FESTIVAL

The Great Delaware Kite Festival, co-sponsored by the Lewes Chamber of Commerce and the Delaware Division of Parks and Recreation, annually takes place at Cape Henlopen State Park on Good Friday, April 19. Kite competition registrations begin at 10 a.m. with ample opportunity for kite competitors to practice in the fields adjacent to the competition area.

This year, the festival is celebrating its 51st anniversary. The Easter Bunny's appearance is a longtime feature of the event that will continue again this year. An Easter egg hunt was added to the festivities five years ago and it will continue to kick off the event at 11 a.m. This year the hunt is sponsored by County Bank and includes 5,000 eggs filled with candy and toys.
