SPILL

DNREC's Emergency Response Team has cleaned the oil from a cargo-ship spill last week at the Port of Wilmington. The oil residue was a result from an overflow during refilling the Wild Cosmos that spilled 400-500 gallons. Oil washed ashore some 1,500 feet of shoreline. The spill also affected smaller stretches of the Delaware River both north and south of Battery Park.

On Thursday, City Manager Bill Barthel reported, "I met with Matthew Higgins, from DNREC, who informed me that the cleanup of the shoreline is complete. Mr. Higgins reassured me that DNREC will return to the City if additional oil should wash ashore.

The City is grateful to both Senator Nicole Poore for her quick notification of DNREC on Sunday, after having been made aware of the incident by Councilman Megginson; and to DNREC, for their response in making the cleanup happen in such an efficient and timely manner."

Good Morning!

Well, a half a decade has passed when a small group of friends thought it would be great if we could share information and some lite gossip about our town. This little newsletter began with a dozen plus emails that grew to 630 mailings every Sunday morning (before the coffee's ready) and reaching 200-300 plus views on Facebook.

The goal and scope of Cobblestones continues. Community news and history is the tenant. Serving community organizations, churches and individuals with a voice is our mission. Support from paid advertisers is essential and offers area businesses an economical manner in which to reach customers and introduce themselves to new members to our community.

I strive to offer newsy tidbits from all New Castle's communities, be it stories, happenings or pictures of recent events. I count on my "Cobbles" as stringers to share that news with you.

Thank you for the growth and support. Here's looking forward to a great Volume 6!

Sincerely,  Teditor

bacon, tomato and cheddar BREAKFAST BAKE

1 lb white artisan bread cut into 1" cubes ■ 1/3 c. extra-virgin olive oil ■ 1 lb sliced smoked bacon, cut into 1/2" pieces ■ 1 lg onion, halved and thinly sliced ■ 1-28 oz can whole Italian tomatoes-drained, chopped and patted dry ■ 1/2 lb extra-sharp cheddar, shredded (8 oz) ■ 1/2 lb Monterey Jack cheese, shredded (8 oz) ■ 2 tbsp snipped chives ■ 1 3/4 c.

chicken broth ■ 6 lg eggs

Crank up the oven to 350°

Lightly oil a 9 x 13 glass baking dish. In a large bowl, toss the bread with the olive oil and spread on a large rimmed baking sheet. Bake for about 20 minutes, tossing once or twice, until the bread is golden and lightly crispy.

Meanwhile, in a large skillet, cook the bacon over moderately high heat, stirring occasionally, until crisp. Transfer the bacon to paper towels to drain: reserve 2 tbsp of the fat in the skillet.

Add the onion to the skillet and cook over moderate heat, stirring occasionally, until softened. Add the tomatoes and cook until liquid is evaporated, about 3 minutes.

Return the toasted bread cubes to the bowl. Add the contents of the skillet, along with the bacon, shredded cheeses, chives and broth. Stir until the bread is evenly moistened. Spread the mixture in the baking dish and cover with lightly oiled foil.

Bake the bread mixture in the center of the oven for 30 minutes. Remove the foil and bake until the top is crispy, about 15 minutes longer. Carefully remove the baking dish from the oven and using a ladle, press 6 indentations into the bread mixture (you can do 8 if you want to but don't go bonkers). Crack an egg into each indentation. Return the dish to the oven and bake for about 15 minutes, until the egg whites are set but the yolks are still runny. Cook longer if you do not want runny yolks.

Dish it up right away while it's warm.

March's featured artist is Dennis Young who is exhibiting a show of pastel and oil paintings entitled "Waiting for Summer."

Young, a doctor from New Castle, De., generally works outside on location, but retreats to his studio in cold weather, often painting portraits. He waits for the season when he can get back outside to paint and participates in six to eight plein air events a year, including the August event in Ocean City.

The "Waiting for Summer" show will feature many of Young's plein air paintings done in the vivid hues that pastel paints bring to his art.

 HISTORIC NEW CASTLE COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP

Yes...even the Teditor is a BIG fan of Lions Club pancakes!

On Saturday, March 21st the New Castle Hundred Lions Club held their Semi Annual Pancake

Breakfast at the New Castle United Methodist Church. Over 20 ROARING members of the Lions Club, including several family members of Lions, as well as 12 student volunteers from Family Foundations Academy Charter School in New Castle, served approximately 300 guests some of the fluffiest pancakes and the tastiest sausages in town! The turn out was one of the largest in New Castle Lions history.

Club President Jason P. Casper would like to thank all of the Lions, family members, and his FFA students for all of their hard work; as well as all of the members of the community who came out to support this important fundraising event. The club would like to add a very special thank you to the Teditor, Ted Joslin for all his support over the past several weeks in the Cobblestones. The Teditor is always there to promote the New Castle Hundred Lions Club and we greatly appreciate all that he does for us.
