Hi everyone my name is ButterBean
Butterbean is my name and fun is my game! I am an active one-year-old wheat colored terrier mix ready to run and play! I am not going to admit that I need training but...I wouldn't mind being taught some new tricks. I am potty trained and rarely go in my kennel, I prefer to use outdoor facilities. Treats are a great way to get me to do what you want, I love them, especially meaty treats (Beggin' Strips anybody?!). I get along well with other dogs and do well with kids but I'm not a big fan of cats, but they are dogs opposed to be? I'm seeking a home with a passion for play and exercise to wear me out! Come visit me, come adopt me, let's make this happen!

VANDALS DESTROY TREES

Just after Arbor Day it was brought to Cobblestones attention that there were 9-trees vandalized, including the 6 that were destroyed at the Municipal Service Commission sub-station in Dobbinsville. The bark was stripped left on the ground. The trees were installed about 4-5 years ago. I understand the damage could be upwards of $5,000 however they are being appraised for replacement value. The Police are investigating.

The question that remains is - why?

There's nothing as refreshing as a cool gin and tonic in the first place. And then – wait for it – there is the popsicle version, and voila; you have just taken your G&T game to a whole new level. All you need is:

- 3 cups tonic • 1½ oz gin • ¼ lime, juiced
- ½ cup cucumber slices

Here's How To

Mix together tonic, gin and lime juice. Place cucumber slices into popsicle moulds, then pour in tonic mix. Freeze overnight before serving.

Note: Because of the gin, these popsicles they don't freeze quite as well as a 'normal' popsicle. They still stay solid, but they might melt a little faster than normal.

(Don't worry, you won't take too long to eat it, anyway!)

Hermitage Natural Area opens Saturday

The efforts of many opens a new era in our City this Saturday, May 14th at 10am. Trustees Jim Meek and Dorsey Fisk have been at the forefront of this project and have been joined by many residents as well.

This wildlife safety zone is set aside for hiking, photography and nature study. Hunting, fishing, trapping, motor vehicles and discharging of firearms is not permitted.

Three trails have been laid out with blazes on the trees:

- Green: 0.3 mile wheelchair or stroller accessible. Easy
- Blue: 0.1 mile, a spur to a viewpoint over the marsh.
- Red: 0.8 mile, a natural trail through forest to the industrial track trail/bikeway and back. This trail passes an area with evidence of lots of busy beavers.

The area is being developed in phases. In this first phase the trails have been laid out and cleared and a beginning made in removing invasive plants. In the next phase observation areas will be created and plans for landscaping developed.

This area is named for "The Hermitage", a house built by Nicholas Van Dyke Jr. ("Senator Nicholas Van Dyke") in several stages between 1801 and 1818. According to the National Register nomination, it was a farm and summer retreat for his family, though it was less than half a mile from his other houses at 300 and 400 Delaware. The house was destroyed by fire February 17, 2007.

Click here for interactive google map of the trail. On your phone it can show your location via GPS.

thank you!

On Friday, April 29th about 75 volunteers from Bank of America came to our shores to do a coastal clean-up near Bull Hill. With some representatives from DNREC, they hit the mud and phragmites with garbage bags and green bags, doing the best to sort trash from recyclables as we went. The results were impressive and depressing. Many of these "saints" wrapped up with a stop at Jessop's and Nora Lee's, making for a fun, albeit kind of stinky, end to the work week.

Farm Friends and Followers

Spring is here with some weird weather. Regardless things are moving forward here at our new location. Many things are in the ground and growing. The greenhouse is full and will be for awhile to come.

The plastic for the roof finally was put on the high-tunnel during a semi calm day (have not had many of those lately). We had an issue on a calm day a week ago that decided for a few minutes to be unruly. Needless to say we lost that plastic and had to start with a new roll of plastic. Thank you to Becca Manning (Farm Manager of Penn Farm), her volunteer Chase, and Ryan.

Also thank you to Natalie and Jim who are paying for a portion of their share with some labor on the farm. The Japanese Paper Pot Transplanter (YouTube Video) has been a success. I have been able to start things in the greenhouse and get a jump on the season. I transplanted carrots even. It has been great!

Your farmer,

Toby
