Nuri is a special girl looking for just the right home where she can flourish. Not knowing the love of family at the start of her life has left her unsure of the world. She responds with sweet snuggles when she knows you're on her side, so she just needs a quiet home where she can be the main fur-focus of the family to build up her confidence and life experiences. The rewards will be deep devotion from a big girl with a big heart hiding inside. Nuri is learning about family life in a foster home, so please email Lauren Campbell at lcampbell@bvspca.org to arrange an introduction. Nuri's adoption fee has been sponsored by a generous and caring donor. (
