MEMORIAL DAY

occurs on the last Monday of May each year in honor of U.S. military personnel who have died during military service. The day, originally Decoration Day, first took place in Charleston after the Civil War in 1865 when freed slaves created a cemetery as a way to remember fallen Union soldiers.

It wasn't until after World War I that the federal holiday honored all fallen military personnel for any war.

The name Memorial Day began being used in 1882, however the holiday name wasn't officially changed until 1967. Because of its origination, many states in the South at first rejected Decoration Day and wouldn't recognize it. However, slowly the holiday was accepted by every state and remains so today. It is tradition to mark the holiday by flying the national flag at half mast and numerous memorial ceremonies held throughout the U.S.

Senior Center News

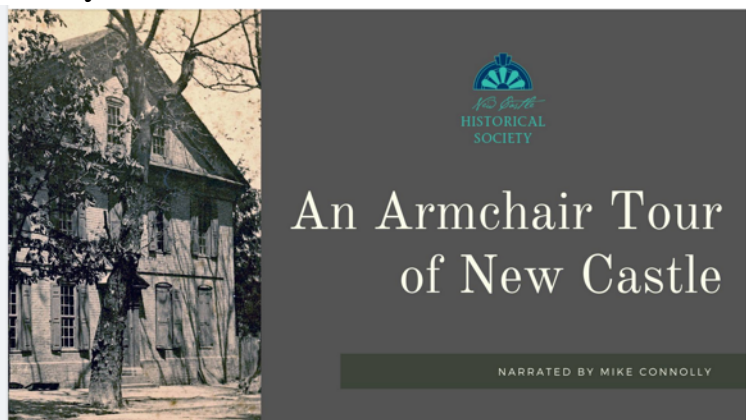

Reopening-I know a lot of people are wondering when we will reopen. At this point, we have no date. June 1 has been in the news a lot so for people who do not know...the governor has a 3 phase plan for reopening and June 1 is the date for Phase 1. However, senior centers are not phase 1. There are no dates associated with the other phases. As I find out more information I will certainly share it. In the meantime, please know we are making plans so once we are able to reopen, we can do so safely. This may mean modifications or cancelations of certain activities and the way we do things may look differently than what we were doing before. - Natalie

Luna came into the Brandywine Valley SPCA as a stray needing emergency surgery to fix a prolapsed uterus. Understandably, she was scared at first, but now that she is feeling better, her sweet personality is blossoming. Her distinctive ears went from down to up. Luna is hoping for a home where she can be the only fur-baby, but would do fine with older children and adults. You can adopt this pretty girl for a fee you name through Sunday, May 31st.

grind your own spices

Compared to ground spices, whole spices stay good for longer. That means that unless your ground spices are top-notch, you'll get a fresher, more potent product from toasting and grinding whole spices yourself. But even though whole spices are The Best, ground spices are without a doubt more convenient. That doesn't mean, however, that you have to settle for sub-par spices. To make the most of pre-ground spices, follow these guidelines:

1. Respect their short shelf-life

If their color or fragrance fades, toss them. If they smell like nothing, they taste like nothing.

2. If you can, buy in small quantities

This increases the chance you'll get through them before they lose their power. How much sweet paprika do you really need anyway?

3. Don't eat them raw

Besides cinnamon, cardamom, black pepper, and chile flakes, we don't endorse the consumption of raw spices. Toasting or blooming spices brings out the most flavor.

4. Just say no to pre-ground black pepper

Grinding it yourself is easy, worth it, and, with this grinder, fun, too.
