Thank You Jack.

It seems like he had always been Mayor of this fine City, some 38 years, following in his fathers footsteps. For many there has always been a Mayor Klingmeyer. He was an honest man with unprecedented qualities, yet many of us loved to argue with him as he did with us.

When my young son wanted to sell lemonade and popcorn at the foot of Packet Alley for DIONC, I told him he needed a business license. I took him to meet Mayor Jack and he came home proudly with his legal document...he made over a hundred dollars!

Jack loved his stewardship of New Castle. A man I'm glad to call a real friend. On the morning of my wife's funeral, 18 years ago this June 1st, I opened my door to find Jack waiting for me. "Thought I'd walk you over to the church" said Jack. Now it's my time to walk with you my friend. God Bless.

SWIMMER WINNER again

Last Sunday, Ray Peden of New Castle, placed 1st in the 2 mile open water age group swim at the 2018 Open Water Masters National Swimming Championship in Reston, Virginia.

Unfortunately, the event was marred by the drowning of one participant, 45 year old Kevin Ruby of Falls Church, Virginia.

Peden beat out Terry Loftus a professional Triathlete from California by appx. 7 minutes for the win.

Peden a retired Delaware State Trooper is presently a 63 year old lifeguard for the Rehoboth Beach Patrol.

Clams Calagione

from MEN'S HEALTH

Summer has many tastes—fresh watermelon, corn on the cob, water straight from the hose (come on, you know you do it). But few surpass clams plucked directly out of their shells.

gather up

1 tsp. olive oil - 2 garlic cloves, thinly sliced
1 shallot, thinly sliced - 1/3 c. Dogfish Head SeaQuench Ale - 1 lime, quartered - 1 tbsp. butter - Leaves from four cilantro sprigs, chopped (stems reserved) - 50 Littleneck clams, rinsed and scrubbed well

easy to fix

- In a large cast-iron pan, add the olive oil, garlic, and shallots. Adjust the heat to medium and cook, stirring occasionally, until the garlic is aromatic, 1 to 2 minutes.
- Add the SeaQuench Ale, limes, butter, cilantro stems, and clams. Cover the pan with a lid and steam until the clams open, 8 to 10 minutes. Serve immediately. Watch the video HERE

Planter's Punch

A simple mixture of rum, citrus, sugar and spice, the Planter's Punch has been gracing cocktail books and bar menus for well over a century.

3 oz Dark rum 3/4 oz Fresh lime juice
1 oz Simple syrup Splash of Grenadine
3 dashes Angostura bitters

Add all the ingredients into a shaker with ice, and shake vigorously.
Strain into a Collins glass over crushed ice.
Top with a splash of soda water. Garnish with a mint sprig

Delaware's Independence Day

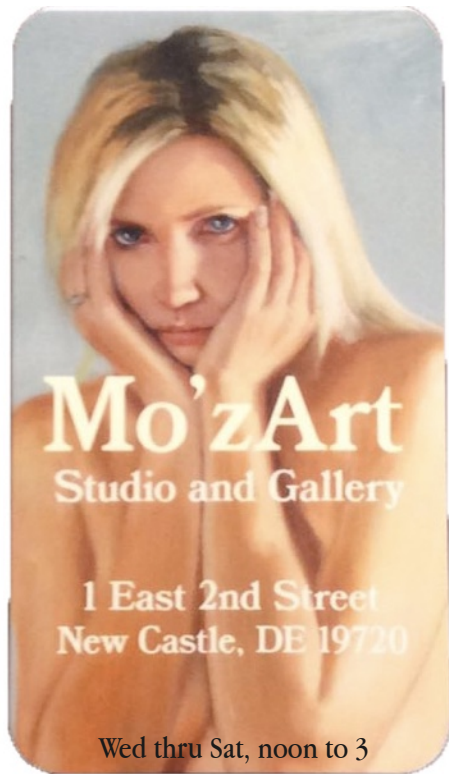

On June 15th in 1776, the Assembly of the Lower Counties of Pennsylvania declares itself independent of British and Pennsylvanian authority, thereby creating the state of Delaware. Delaware did not exist as a colony under British rule. As of 1704, Pennsylvania had two colonial assemblies: one for the "Upper Counties," originally Bucks, Chester and Philadelphia, and one for the "Lower Counties on the Delaware" of New Castle, Kent and Sussex. All of the counties shared one governor.

Thomas McKean and Caesar Rodney, the same two men who represented the Lower Counties in the Stamp Act Congress of 1765, proposed the Lower Counties' simultaneous separation from Pennsylvania and the British crown. McKean and Rodney, along with George Read, represented the Lower Counties at the First Continental Congress in 1774 as well as the Second Continental Congress in 1775-76. When Read refused to vote for independence, McKean had famously summoned an ailing Rodney, who rode overnight from Dover, Delaware, to Philadelphia in order to cast his vote in favor of independence and break the Delaware delegation's stalemate.

McKean and Rodney were punished for their zealous pursuit of independence in an area heavily populated by Loyalists. The first Delaware General Assembly, a body that owed its existence to McKean and Rodney, chose not to return them to the Continental Congress in October 1776. But, after Wilmington, Delaware, and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, fell under British occupation, the second General Assembly returned the two Patriots to the Continental Congress in October 1777. Both men went on to serve as president of the state of Delaware. Rodney held the post from March 31, 1778, to November 6, 1781. McKean served briefly as the acting president from September 22 until October 20, 1777, while George Read traveled from Philadelphia to assume the post, left vacant by John McKinly's capture by British troops.

Marcy is confident, curious, and full of energy. She's a pretty independent kitty and can entertain herself, but she really enjoys playing with her human friends. Marcy would do best as an only pet and asks for a home with kids 8+. This one-year old cutie can be adopted at a fee you name through Thursday, May 31st, then she'll be at the Mega Adoption Event over the weekend along with 1000+ other adoptables. Details at www.megaadopt.com.

Separation Day

for all Delaware in Historic New Castle

It's time for Delaware to celebrate being ahead of the Colonial pack, independence-wise. That and not being Pennsylvania, no offense. This Saturday, Separation Day in New Castle commemorates Delawareans' vote for independence – from England as well as Pennsylvania and its ruling family of William Penn – well ahead of the Fourth of July in 1776. The Colonial Assembly of what were then the Lower Counties of Pennsylvania met on June 15, 1776, at the Old Court House in New Castle. There, they voted to form "The Delaware State." What would become the other dozen original states were in the process of developing provisional governments in advance of the expected vote for Independence by members of the Continental Congress in Philadelphia. But Delaware, as Delawareans say, was first.

Lot's of BBQ for sale from BBQ vendors (ribs, chicken, brisket, etc.). The People's Choice Competition is different and involves BBQ TEAMS, not BBQ Vendors. About 15 BBQ TEAMS have agreed to cook wings that the public can sample and vote for the one they like best. Purchase 5 wings for $5 and vote for the wing you like best! The winning team wins a cash prize.

Admission is $10 for those 21 and older from noon til 5 pm.

Gates open at noon at Battery Park in New Castle after Separation Day Parade. Entrance is at 2nd and Delaware and Third Street. Come on in for great live music, arts & crafts, vendors, kids rides, and attractions. BBQ and chicken wings will be for sale! In addition, New Castle-based nonprofits will be offering a wide variety of food and drink items (hamburgers, hot dogs, sausage and peppers, funnel cake and more!). The proceeds will benefit their organizations.

Admission from noon-5 pm: $10; Everyone under 21 gets free admission! There is no admission charge after 5 pm. With admission, adults 21 and older (proof of ID required) will receive a drink ticket entitling them to one alcoholic beverage (a 16oz beer, a glass of wine, or a specialty cocktail) or two bottles of water.

Wristbands are $10 for unlimited access to Rides & Attractions.

Live bands will be performing noon to 9:30pm.

The festival culminates with a spectacular fireworks display over the Delaware River beginning approximately 9:30pm.

Cobblestones is growing!

Every Sunday morning, 925 plus "Cobbles" (and some 200 plus views on Facebook) receive their weekly dose of New Castle's comings and goings and other good and interesting stuff!

The goal and scope of Cobblestones evolves. Community news and history is the tenet. Serving community organizations, churches and individuals with a voice is our mission. Support from paid advertisers is essential and offers area businesses an economical manner to reach customers and introduce themselves to new members to our community.

Space for commercial/business ads require a donation of $50 to cover time and materials.

That covers four random insertions.

Checks made to me personally.

Keeping in mind the 'community fun philosophy' Cobblestones is free of political or social issue advertising.

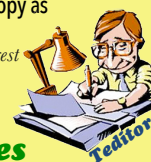

Ads should be a moderate size. A jpg or PDF works the best. Let me know early in the week an approx. size with a final copy Thursday. If it's just a listing for "events", please send me copy as soon as possible.

Personally, I would like to thank everyone for your interest and participation in the growing Cobblestones family.

Anything I can do to help, please let me know.
