Patriotism rang from New Castle across America

July 4, 2016 - Photos by Jim Atkins.

This year, the Delaware Sons of the American Revolution honored Sgt Major Willis Phelps, Jr. and singer Greg Austin for their contributions. Mr. Phelps, one Delaware's most-beloved re-enactors, has had a long and distinguished military career. His benediction, "I am Your Flag, Remember Me?" formed a powerful conclusion to the afternoon's events.

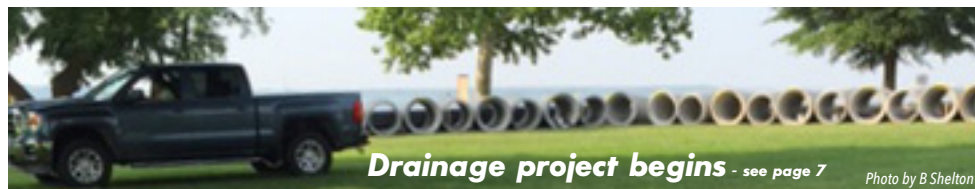

Mr. Austin, a member of Malloy Medicare Advisors, previously spent over a decade working with special needs students in the Brandywine School District. This was Greg's 11 th year as music director for New Castle's Let Freedom Ring Celebration.

Immanuel Church on the Green was packed on Independence Day! People seemed to have a real need to reach out to each other, to think about patriotism and what it means to be an American.

This interdenominational Independence Day ceremony included the ringing of the old courthouse bell, with the children in the audience ringing it thirteen times, symbolizing the thirteen colonies. This national bell-ringing ceremony begins at 2:00 each year on the 4th of July with the tapping of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia

Hey Nanaers.... I'm going to Japan!

Christian Dakin, grandson of Cobble Kat surprised his Nanners with a call last Sunday to tell her he's leaving August 20th to participate in the JLJSP (Japanese Language and Japanese Studies Program) with the Japanese Language Institute at Nagoya University of Foreign Studies. Christian is currently enrolled at Georgia Southern University in Statesboro, Georgia. He will be a junior this fall school term. He has a 3.95 GPA and is on the GSU President's List. He will return July 2017 and will have completed his requirements for his minor in Japanese.

Congratulations Christian and someone give Kat a tissue!

Cobblestones just learned that the final hurdle has been met and construction of the Pier could begin in a few weeks! The State has granted $300,000 to meet the necessary funding.

cornmeal crusted CATFISH with tomato gravy

the brine

6 c.s water - ½ c.
orange juice - 2 tbsps
kosher salt - ½ tbsp
coriander - ½ tbsp
mustard seeds - 3 garlic cloves - 2 bay
leaves - 2 thyme
sprigs - 1 c. dill pickle
juice - 1 c. hot sauce

Four 8-oz catfish fillets

tomato gravy

½ c bacon fat - 1 med
yellow onion, finely chopped - ½ c cornmeal - ¼ c all-
purpose flour - 4 c
crushed canned tomatoes - 3 c tomato juice ½ c. Coffee - 1½ tbsps freshly ground black pepper
- 1 tbsp kosher salt - 1 tbsp hot sauce - 1 bay leaf

the catfish

3 c canola oil - 1½ c. Buttermilk - 1¼ c white cornmeal - ¾ c all-purpose flour - 1 tsp kosher salt - ½ tsp freshly ground black pepper

now make it

1. Make the brine: In a medium pot, combine all of the brine ingredients, except the pickle juice, hot sauce and fish, over high heat. Bring to a boil, then reduce the heat and simmer for 4 minutes. Remove from the heat and stir in the pickle juice and hot sauce. Strain the brine and refrigerate until fully cooled. Place the catfish fillets in the brine and chill in the refrigerator for 3½ hours.

2. Meanwhile, make the tomato gravy: In a medium sauce pot, heat the bacon fat over medium heat. Add the onions and sweat until translucent, 10 to 12 minutes. Add the cornmeal and flour to make a roux, constantly stirring, until thick and smooth, 4 minutes. Whisk in the remaining gravy ingredients and bring to a simmer over medium heat. Cook until thickened, 12 to 15 minutes.

3. Make the catfish: In a 12-inch cast-iron skillet, heat the canola oil to 325° and line a plate with paper towels. Place the buttermilk in a shallow dish. In another shallow dish, mix together the cornmeal, flour, salt and pepper. Drain the catfish from the brine and dip into the buttermilk. Shake off any excess buttermilk and dredge in the cornmeal mixture to completely coat each fillet. Working in 2 batches, fry the fillets until golden brown, 3 to 4 minutes per side. Remove from the oil and transfer to the prepared plate to drain.

Divide the catfish between plates and top each with the tomato gravy, then serve with pride!

An easily concocted mixture of equal parts of mikes hard lemonade and blue moon beer with the orange slice garnish.

William Shakespeare's Death*

Thursday, July 14th, 7PM
at the
New Castle Public Library
Community Room.

Linda Emerick, Post Graduate Diplomate of the Shakespeare Institute, University of Birmingham, UK will be joined by local actors, Matt Lovlie and Gail Wagner to present a program on Shakespeare's play, The Comedy of Errors. All are welcome. Light refreshments will be served. Call the Library at 302.328.1995 to register. The Comedy of Errors will be the summer production offered by the Delaware Shakespeare Festival (www.delshakes.org), outdoors at Rockwood Museum, July 15-31. Emerick's program will enlighten participant's understanding of this Shakespearean play.

*Hi everyone my name is Bob

I am a 3 year old Domestic Short-haired mix. My fur is black and white and I have a cute little black spot on my nose. I also have moss green eyes that will entrance you into giving me treats, which I love. Some people think that cats aren't as loving as dogs, I beg to differ! If you are in the same vicinity as me and have forgotten I was in the room, I will let you know by nudging my head into your hand, climbing into your lap and making you want to pet me. You could say that I crave attention, and for that reason I have to be the only cat in the home. I have no idea what personal space means with people so I need to go to a home that shares my same mentality. My ideal adopter would be someone who likes to cuddle and play and pet me all the time because I love attention. A family with kids would be perfect! I am a really awesome cat, visit me today and try to say otherwise

Oops...or how to clean those summer snafus

1. Avocado. Scrape off any excess green before rinsing your garment in cold water. Next, pretreat by rubbing dish soap into the stain before you toss it in the wash.

2. Sweat. A stain remover applied to your pit stains before you wash your shirt or dress should do the trick. Don't have a stain remover? Lemon juice also works.

3. Strawberries. Soak your shirt for 30 minutes in a mixture of water (one quart), white vinegar (one tablespoon) and liquid laundry detergent (1/2 teaspoon). Then, launder as usual.

4. Grass. These stains should actually come out on their own in the wash, but just in case: Pre-treat any green marks with stain remover and gently (we repeat: gently) scrub the stain before tossing it in the wash.

5. Rosé. Blot the stain and add table salt to absorb any excess liquid. Next, give your shirt/dress/white jeans a rinse in hot water before machine washing as usual.

6. Ice Cream. Spot treat with cold water and a clean cloth right when the stain hits your shirt. (A Shout Wipe also works.) Then, apply stain remover before soaking it in the sink with a teaspoon of an enzyme-based detergent-like Tide Stain Release--for 30 minutes. After that, you're good to machine wash.

7. Tomatoes. Rinse with cold water before using a sponge and white vinegar to buff out any hint of color. If it's still there, pre-treat with stain remover before sticking in the wash.

8. Sunscreen. Since sunscreen tends to be greasy, your best bet is to pre-treat it with a product that's up for the job like dish soap (one that's a clear color) or Lestoil. Dab it on with a clean cloth, then machine wash in hot water.

9. Bicycle Grease. Speaking of grease, to remove stains left by chains on your bike, start by applying baby powder and blotting with a paper towel to remove any excess grease. Next, pre-treat stains with dish soap on the front and back of the stain. Then, throw the garment in the wash by itself.

10. Ketchup. Dab it with cold water right away, then sponge with white vinegar. Next, machine wash it using a color-safe detergent with bleach.

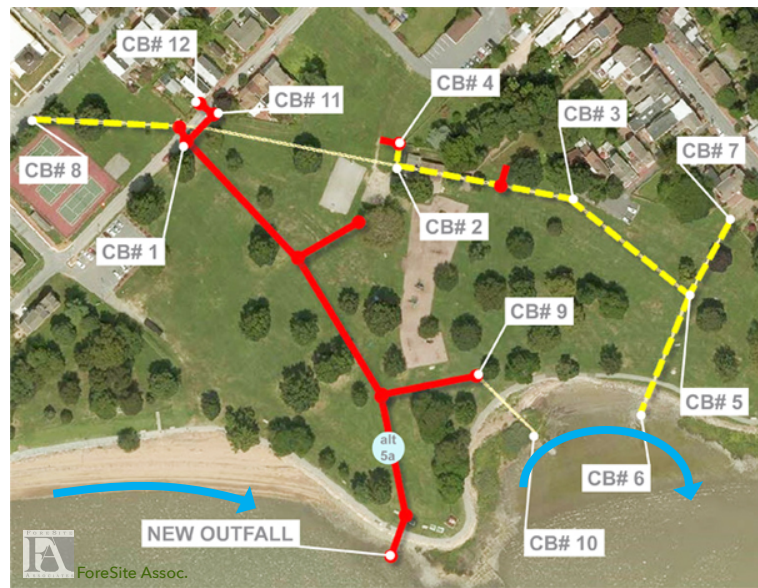

11. Mustard. Scrape off any excess mustard before pre-treating with a stain remover and sticking it in the washing machine on hot.

12. Popsicle. Start by giving the garment a soak in cold water, then spot treat with white vinegar (three parts water to one part vinegar is fine) before tossing in the wash.

Now that the project begins I hope the following helps the community.

BATTERY PARK DRAINAGE

PRELIMINARY STORM SEWER DESIGN

At the Trustees monthly meeting, Drew Hayes of ForeSite Associates presented a long awaited plan that that would greatly alleviate the flooding in Battery Park while being a foundation for numerous improvements to follow.

Dotted yellow indicates the present drainage lines to remain. The red will be new 36" to 42" diameter pipes. River currents affects the outfall of rain water. (I have added blue current directionals). The outfall at the right (CB#6) catches a lot of the debris and is always blocked by sediment. The new outfall (red left) would be swept clean by the rivers currents.

From the July 11, 1958 New Castle Gazette

LET'S MAKE OUR TOWN SQUARE NICE

*If this Town ever had a chance,
To do a Worthy thing,
And make a fine impression,
When it Hosts the World next Spring
With one fell swoop remove the wires
And put up proper lights
And take down all those ugly poles
That make our "Square" a sight.
So lets all talk it up again,
And everyone inquire,
Lets put those wires underground
And have a Square we'll all admire.*

MY NAME IS DAVE AMALFITANO IM 46 FATHER OF 3 I HAVE PKD I NEED A
O TYPE KIDNEY 7573238

Delaware man is in the fight of his life. He's taking a unique approach to continue living. 46-year-old Dave Amalfitano, dad of 14-year-old Anna and 12-year-old twin sons, knew he had to do something to save his life.

Two Sundays ago, he went to his union hall with his sons Leo and Matthew to put on a Billboard for a kidney..Delaware man takes unique approach for kidney donation.

IBEW Local 313 electrician is hoping someone driving along Basin Road near New Castle, will see this billboard and his desperate plea for a kidney.

Dave has a hereditary condition called polycystic kidney disease or PKD. "Clusters of cysts grow, constantly grow on my kidneys and just wipe them out puts me in renal failure," he explained.
