New Castle Little League Baseball Softball

is a volunteer run organization. Most of our support comes directly from our own parent base. However, with work schedules & time constraints, it is often necessary to look outside our group for help. This youth athletic league could not exist without the support & positive input of not only our own families, but our community as well. This year one of our parents saw a need at our facility & took the initiative, contacts were established to ask for assistance in filling the "bumpy" road that gives our families access to all our fields.

The Cirillo Brothers answered the call to selflessly aid the children of New Castle Little League. In time to host a District All-Star game, the parent volunteers arrived to a fresh, smooth drive back to our game fields.

We sincerely thank & appreciate all the combined efforts it took to so quickly come to the aid of our Little League & allow us to proudly welcome visitors to our complex and in particular the Cirillo Brothers for their generous donation of time and materials to fix the NCLL road!

Too many rumors

Updating the City Code regarding building height restrictions (45ft.) and from where measured (mean grade level) has lead to a variety of rumors. When Route 9 LLC Holdings presented drawings last month of an apartment/retail building they propose for the 7th Street Gambacorta property. Not wanting to give rumors credence, these stories ignited Council member Ted Megginson who exclaimed, "There are too many rumors going around this town". He explained that the height was not being increased, and all this Code revision was to establish a grade level to which measure the height. As far as any apartment building being built, he said first it has to be presented to the Planning Commission, which hasn't happened. After the PC is finished and satisfied, then the proposal would be presented to City Council. A public hearing then would be advertised and a scheduled meeting held.

Residents should regularly check the City website:
<http://newcastlecitadelaware.gov/>

and the newspaper for latest developments and not be driven by rumors and speculation. If you want a fact verified, ask a City official.

A ton

After telling of the successful Penn Wars event attended by 90 plus children from New Castle neighborhoods, Sr. Lieutenant Adam P. Brams praised the efforts of the NCPD reporting the confiscation 600 plus baggies of heroin from addicts and dealers within the past six weeks or so, including a recent arrest when 16 baggies of heroin were discovered shoved down a suspects baby's diaper.

Brams also praised the efforts of seasonal officers Tom Dyson and Earl Marchione for all their efforts and willingness to do whatever is requested.

City Council dealt with many issues and a lot of information. Follow the proceedings and issues in the New Castle WEEKLY.

BBQ ONIONS

Barbecued onions are a cinch to make and the wow power is off the charts. Feel free to customize the recipe by changing the ingredients in the filling.

- ▶ Method: Indirect Grilling
- ▶ Equipment: 8 pieces of aluminum foil, twisted into 2-inch rings or grilling rings; 1½ cups of wood chips, soaked for 1 hour, then drained
- ▶ 8 Vidalia or other sweet onions, peeled
- ▶ 5 tbsp unsalted butter
- ▶ 4 slices bacon, cut crosswise into ¼ inch slices
- ▶ ½ cup of your favorite brand of sweet red barbecue sauce
- ▶ Freshly ground black pepper

Step 1: Using a sharp paring knife and working opposite the stem end, cut a cone-shaped cavity in each onion by angling your knife toward the center and cutting in a circle. Finely chop the onion you've removed. Set each onion on a foil ring with the cavity facing up.

Step 2: Melt 1 tbsp of the butter in a skillet over medium heat. Add the bacon and chopped onion and cook over medium heat until lightly browned, 3 to 5 minutes. Drain the bacon in a strainer over a bowl. Place a spoonful of the bacon mixture in the cavity of each onion. Cut the remaining 4 tbsps of butter into 8 equal pieces. Spoon 1 tbsp of the barbecue sauce into each onion and place a piece of butter on top. Sprinkle with pepper.

Step 3: Set up the grill for indirect grilling and preheat to medium. If using a gas grill, place all of the wood chips or chunks into the smoker box or a smoker pouch and run the grill on high until you see smoke. Then reduce heat to medium. If using a charcoal grill, place a large drip pan in the center and preheat the grill to medium, then toss all of the wood chips or chunks on the coals.

Step 4: When ready to cook, place the onions on their rings in the center of the hot grate, over the drip pan, and away from the heat, and cover the grill. Cook the onions until they are golden brown and tender, 40 to 60 minutes. To test for doneness, pinch the side of an onion; it should be squeezably soft. If the filling starts to brown too much before the onions are fully cooked, cover the onions loosely with aluminum foil. Transfer the grilled onions to a platter or plates and serve at once.

is a great way to give back to your community and empower our young people. Our future relies on our children and the only way we can ensure that their future is bright and positive is by leading them down the correct path.

Shaneka Turner, Mentor Coordinator at Eisenberg elementary, is looking to build a stronger program and would love for anyone interested in mentoring to apply.

Creative mentoring provides that platform with site-based mentoring within elementary, middle and high schools; during school hours. This is to ensure mentoring happens in a safe, consistent environment for the student and mentor. Mentoring within the school also provides an abundance of supplies and support from teachers, staff and at some schools a mentor coordinator like myself. We ask that mentors dedicate 30-60 minutes a week for the entire school year to build the best relationship possible.

If you are concerned about whether or not you qualify or have the skills to be a mentor, no worries. We offer an adult and high school student free training and handbook. We also have an application and interview process to screen for proper individuals; the application includes background check and child registry form. If you are interested in supporting our program there are many ways you can do so.

1. applying to be a mentor, 2. donating materials and games or 3. spreading the word to friends, family and co-workers.

Contact Shaneka Turner at shaneka.turner@colonial.k12.de.us, or check out the website www.connecting-generations.org.

She said "personally, I'm looking to build a stronger program at Eisenberg elementary and would love for anyone interested in mentoring to apply with our program. Thank you for your support to positively impact the life of a child".

WOW! @ YOUR Senior Center

This movie is based on a true story. Funny and touching, it depicts the adventures of a group of British homemakers who decide to pose for a nude calendar to raise money for the local hospital after one of the women loses her husband to cancer. It stars Helen Mirren and a delightful cast.
