Neighbors urged to be aware.

Recently there have been random break-ins in town. Residents need to be extra cautious. Keep your doors and windows locked. Be aware of strangers, unfamiliar cars canvassing neighborhoods or parked for extended periods of time that would be out of normal daily activity.

Thursday, July 11th., the New Castle Police released the following:

The New Castle City Police are now investigating six burglaries that occurred in the early morning hours between July 7th, 2013 and this date on the blocks of E. 2nd Street, W. 4th Street, E5th Street and E. 3rd Streets.

The unknown suspect(s) were believed to have entered the residences through unsecured doors and windows and took purses and other miscellaneous items. Detectives are following leads and continuing to investigate. The New Castle City Police are urging all residents to ensure that their doors and windows are locked at all times, particularly during the evening/early morning hours and to set home security alarms. Residents are also being asked any suspicious activity be reported to RECOM at 9-1-1.

If anyone feels uncomfortable calling the emergency reporting number- they can call 573-2800 the non-emergency number at RECOM. ► Action News Link

STAY SAFE TIPS

- ✓ Keep your car keys next to your bed and hit the panic button--the noise may very well scare off the robber since they don't want to attract any attention to themselves and the noise will also alert those around you.
- ✓ Another good noise maker is a fog horn. They can be had on amazon.com for under $20. Amazon.com/SUPER-BLAST
- ✓ A favorite: after calling 9/11 and if the noise of the panic alarm or fog horn doesn't scare them off and the door handle on your bedroom door is turning, you still have one more option, especially if you lock your bedroom door so they can't get in immediately: Yell loudly: "Get the hell out of here, you son of a bitch. I have a gun and I'm not afraid to use it!" Desperate times call for desperate measures.

Grilled Basil

Bites

Ground turkey with Asian spices wrapped in basil leaves and grilled. Quick! Makes about 2 dozen bites. If you have a pound of ground turkey, you can quadruple the recipe, make the balls and then freeze until ready to use.

you're gonna need

4 oz. ground turkey
1 clove garlic, minced
1 t grated fresh ginger
2 T bottled teriyaki sauce
1/2 t pepper
12-16 large basil leaves, washed and blotted dry
More teriyaki sauce for basting metal skewers

now making yummy

Mix the ground turkey with the garlic, ginger, teriyaki sauce and pepper. Roll into very small (1/2 inch or so) balls and then flatten slightly. The size of the balls will depend on the size of your basil leaves. Wrap each ball in a basil leaf, starting with the tip of the leaf, and then spear 5-6 balls onto skewers. Preheat grill to high, then brush grill with oil. Brush skewers with extra teriyaki sauce and grill 2-4 minutes, flip skewers and grill other side 2-4 minutes until done. Serve with extra teriyaki sauce for dipping.

Game Day for Kevin & Chloe

Hello New Castle!

Here are a few picks from Chloe's first baseball game. It was at Cashmen field in Las Vegas. Their name is the 51s...I guess for Area 51 since their logo is an alien. They are the Mets AAA affiliate. It was a great game for her to see...two homers, almost hit by a foul ball, made it on the jumbo screen, and lots of kids running around. - Kevin

Delaware Greenways Planning at Historic Penn Farm

At Delaware Greenways we are moving ahead in our efforts to restore Historic Penn Farm as an economic, educational, and community resource serving the city of New Castle and surrounding region.

Earlier this month, we met with our many partners, including DNREC, the University of Delaware, the Trustees of New Castle Common, William Penn High School, and the City of New Castle Municipal Services Commission to discuss priorities for restoring the soil and managing water on the site. DelDOT was also on site that day conducting much-needed repair work to improve drainage along Frenchtown Road.

In the coming weeks, we will be working with our partners to draft a farm plan addressing every element of the farm from agricultural production to community events. If you are interested in providing input in this planning process, please contact the Delaware Greenways office.

The Historic Penn Farm is located at 807 Frenchtown Road in New Castle.

JULY IS HOT DOG MONTH?

Hotdog History

Many hot dog historians chafe at the suggestion that today's hot dog on a bun was introduced during the St. Louis "Louisiana Purchase Exposition" in 1904 by Bavarian concessionaire, Anton Feuchtwanger. As the story goes, he loaned white gloves to his patrons to hold his piping hot sausages and as most of the gloves were not returned, the supply began running low. He reportedly asked his brother-in-law, a baker, for help. The baker improvised long soft rolls that fit the meat - thus inventing the hot dog bun. Kraig says everyone wants to claim the hot dog bun as their own invention, but the most likely scenario is the practice was handed down by German immigrants and gradually became widespread in American culture.

Another story that riles serious hot dog historians is how term "hot dog" came about. Some say the word was coined in 1901 at the New York Polo Grounds on a cold April day. Vendors were hawking hot dogs from portable hot water tanks shouting "They're red hot! Get your dachshund sausages while they're red hot!" A New York Journal sports cartoonist, Tad (Thomas Aloysius Dorgan) Dorgan, observed the scene and hastily drew a cartoon of barking dachshund sausages nestled warmly in rolls. Not sure how to spell "dachshund" he simply wrote "hot dog!" The cartoon is said to have been a sensation, thus coining the term "hot dog." However, historians have been unable to find this cartoon, despite Dorgan's enormous body of work and his popularity.

A Man Named NATHAN

It was almost a century ago in 1916 when an employee of Charles Feltman, Nathan Handwerker, left his employ and, with his wife Ida, started Nathan's Famous, Inc., which now calls itself the world's greatest hot dog purveyor. He opened his stand in Coney Island near the corner of Surf and Stillwell Avenues and called it Nathan's.

Handwerker sold his hot dogs for five cents each. He used two spice suppliers to keep his hot dog recipe secret. To counteract the rumors of his cut-price hot dogs being less than palatable, he offered free hot dogs to the doctors and nurses at Coney Island Hospital. When questioned in later years about his love for his own food (hot dogs), Nathan bragged, "I'll gladly wrangle anyone who's been living on caviar and champagne for thirty-nine years."

It is said that a local singing waiter, Eddie Cantor, comic actor and singer, and his prominent piano accompanist, Jimmy Durante, comedian, piano player, and singer, resented the fact that the prospering Charles Feltman had raised the price on his "franks" to a dime. They suggested to Nathan Handwerker that instead of working for Feltman, that he go into competition with him, selling franks for half the price. Some historians suggest that Nathan Handwerker borrowed $320 from entertainers Cantor and Durante to start the business.

To assist in serving his customers, Nathan hired a redheaded teenager, Clara Bowtiinelli, who later was discovered while working there and became the famous actress Clara Bow, the "It Girl" of the 1920's silent films
