George O'Neal

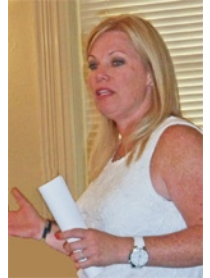

Honored

Councilman Ted Megginson presenting the City's Resolution plaque to Public Works Supervisor George O'Neal, recognizing his 40 years of service to the citizens of New Castle. The Public Works division is responsible for the operation and maintenance of more than 20 miles of the City street system, plus solid waste collection at each City property.

During last week's City Council meeting Senator Nicole Poore reported of her involvement in Dobbinsville. She has met with DelDOT representatives specifically on the traffic light and school crossing zone. The safety of the 79 children in the area is a paramount concern. The light is going to be reconstructed and the crossing lines have been repainted. A crossing guard from New Castle County will be in place for the first two weeks to assess if this will be a continuous need. Sidewalks and street improvements were also discussed. The road from Rt 9 Federal Lane to Washington St. will be repaved prior to the River Town Ride.

Sen. Poore

Josie Roy

Progress at the Mt. Salem Church was presented by a one woman powerhouse (our history will not be forgotten) Josie Roy. She has given her time and endless energy to the preservation of this historic church. She asked Council that East 4th Street between Harmony and Chestnut be closed during the Historic Marker dedication ceremony Sat., September. 12th 11:30am - 1pm. Granted!

The City Auditor reported that the financial status of New Castle was better than projected.

Next week: Wynne Hewitt and Forgotten Cats and River Towns Ride & Festival curb plaques.

BANANA DOLPHINS

- ✓ First you find some nice and bright colored bananas with hardly any bruising on them. Then you wash them under water and dry them gently.
- ✓ Use a sharp knife and cut the stem all the way to the banana and a little past to make a smile and to be able to open them to put a grape into the opening.
- ✓ Take the knife and cut the bottom half off a little past the middle. Use some cream cheese to stick the banana in to keep it standing.
- ✓ You put the grapes around the dolphin and one into the mouth opening.

✓ Take a brush and brush some lemon juice into the opening so it doesn't turn brown. The last thing is to add the eyes. You can use an edible marker, cloves stuck in, raisins, chocolate chips, or frosting. Perfect for entertaining!

Guest Speaker: Michael Dixon

An illustrated look at the evolution of crime, punishment, and police work in Delaware from the colonial era to the 20th century. Stories of unheralded police officers, criminal escapades, whipping post, hanging, lynching, obscure methods of punishment, and imprisonment in old county jails. Compare how crime and police methods have changed by using little known stories in history.

Season Finale

A big tip of the baton to the New Castle Community Partnership and the New Castle WEEKLY for the wonderful Concerts in the Park this season. With only two weather related trips to the Senior Center...this is Battery Park at its best! Thank You!

To many, recent controversies like the pier, parking lots and meadows, may seem to be a new pastime. But citizens of New Castle have been complaining about new ideas for years! Here's one from the Cobble archive from the mid 80's

Horse 'n' buggy return

Old New Castle OKs night hours

LAWRENCE

A sound once familiar to residents of Old New Castle will be returning as City Council unanimously approved night hours for a horse and carriage ride that some residents said was too noisy.

In a special meeting Tuesday night, council reversed its earlier decision, saying Frank Williams and Burke, his 15-year-old Belgian draft horse could traverse the historic city until 11 p.m. "I try to think why in this age of loud mufflers, boom boxes and people - why the uproar over the horse and carriage," Council President H. Thomas McGuire said. "I can only think that it's a different sound, it's one we're not accustomed to, one we're not used to."

Council member Patti K. Fuller said 10 people called her after a public hearing on the issue last week, all of them in favor of bringing Burke back. "I liked it. I think it was silly for anyone to oppose it," said a resident of Third Street, who lives along the carriage route. "It's not an unpleasant noise to hear a horse clip-clopping down the street."

But Skip and Jean Hatter who live on the corner of Delaware Street and The Strand disagreed, saying noise in their section of the city - including hot rodders driving to Battery Park - is getting intolerable.

"It's extreme noise pollution," Skip Hatter said. "The horse is just part of it."

Williams could not be reached for comment Tuesday night. After last week's meeting, he said he would be back the first weekend after night hours were restored.

Council restricted Williams hours in July after some residents complained about the noise. Rather than run the carriage business until 8 p.m., as council allowed, Williams left town, saying it was unprofitable to operate only during the day.

Can ya imagine what took place when the first 'horseless carriage' sputtered down Delaware Street!

HARVEST

WILLIAM PENN HIGH SCHOOL HARVESTS TOMATOES AT PENN FARM!

Our William Penn High School students helped harvest many sizes, shapes and color tomatoes! Unfortunately, there are no tomatoes for sale to the public at this time. All were used for WPHS Cafeteria, WPHS CSA and distributed to the Food Bank.
