The Delaware Ovarian Cancer Foundation, an all volunteer organization, advises women to learn the symptoms:

Step One Crisp bacon. Step Two Turn bacon fat into an addictive warm vinaigrette. Boom. Teditor loves how the warm dressing clings to tangles of frisée in this Cobb salad recipe, but any crunchy lettuce like romaine or endive would be great. Choose tomatoes that feel heavy for their size. As long as they're ripe, any type will work. And streaming oil into the already-fatty bacon mixture might cause the vinaigrette to break, but don't fret! It'll still be totally delicious.

Ingredients

6 large eggs, room temperature - 4 slices bacon - 2 Tbsp. sherry vinegar or red wine vinegar - 1 Tbsp. Dijon mustard - 1 tsp. Sugar - ¼ cup extra-virgin olive oil Kosher salt, freshly ground pepper - 8 cups coarsely torn lettuce - ½ rotisserie chicken, meat pulled from bones and shredded (about 2 cups) 2 large beefsteak and/or heirloom tomatoes, cut into wedges - 1 ripe avocado, quartered

The fixn'

Boil eggs for 7 minutes for medium-set yolks. Immediately transfer eggs to a medium bowl of ice water and chill until cold, about 5 minutes. Peel eggs under running water; set aside.
Place bacon in a dry medium skillet and set over medium-low heat. Cook, turning occasionally, until brown and crisp, 8-10 minutes. Transfer to paper towels and let drain.
Add vinegar, mustard, sugar, and 1 Tbsp. water to rendered fat in skillet and whisk until smooth and emulsified. Gradually stream in oil, whisking constantly until a thick dressing forms; season with salt and pepper.
Arrange lettuce on a large platter and season with salt and pepper. Drizzle about half of warm dressing over. Cut eggs in half and arrange over frisée along with shredded chicken, tomato wedges, avocado, and bacon (break up bacon if desired). Season salad with salt and pepper and drizzle remaining dressing over.
