ALL DONE!

This is part of the City Storm Water pipe and catch basin work on 3rd Street by the tennis courts. It is the portion the City was responsible for and will tie into the new storm water system on the Battery Park that the Trustees funded. MSC lowered the water main in this area to accommodate the bigger storm water pipe and Delmarva Gas lowered their gas main also. When they are completed, the entire area that is disturbed will be paved.

Alton Brown's Steak au Poivre

you'll need

4 tenderloin steaks, 6 to 8 ounces each and no more than 1½ inches thick • Kosher salt • 2 tbsp whole peppercorns tbsp • 1 tbsp unsalted butter • 1 tsp olive oil • 1/3 cup Cognac, plus 1 tsp • 1 cup heavy cream

easy steps to follow

Watch how to make this recipe.

1. Remove the steaks from the refrigerator for at least 30 minutes and up to 1 hour prior to cooking. Sprinkle all sides with salt.
2. Coarsely crush the peppercorns with a mortar and pestle, the bottom of a cast iron skillet, or using a mallet and pie pan. Spread the peppercorns evenly onto a plate. Press the fillets, on both sides, into the pepper until it coats the surface. Set aside.
3. In a medium skillet over medium heat, melt the butter and olive oil. As soon as the butter and oil begin to turn golden and smoke, gently place the steaks in the pan. For medium-rare, cook for 4 minutes on each side. Once done, remove the steaks to a plate, tent with foil and set aside. Pour off the excess fat but do not wipe or scrape the pan clean.
4. Off of the heat, add 1/3 cup Cognac to the pan and carefully ignite the alcohol with a long match or firestick. Gently shake pan until the flames die. Return the pan to medium heat and add the cream. Bring the mixture to a boil and whisk until the sauce coats the back of a spoon, approximately 5 to 6 minutes. Add the teaspoon of Cognac and season, to taste, with salt. Add the steaks back to the pan, spoon the sauce over, and serve.

How could you resist a dog with a name like Stroganoff? Such a silly name fits him well. He's a big goofball with a happy-go-lucky perspective on life. He's an all-around great dog who loves to play, fetch, snuggle and make everyone fall in love with him. Stroganoff is friendly with everyone he meets, whether that's adults, kids, dogs, or cats.
