Fondant Potatoes

"The texture this old-school method provides for russet potatoes is unlike anything you get by just roasting: so dense, moist, and rich. The way the crusty, crunchy edges outside contrast with the uniquely rich and creamy inside is truly a magical thing."

SEE VIDEO

gonna need at market

3 large whole russet potatoes - 2 tbsp high-heat-resistant vegetable oil, such as grapeseed oil - salt and ground black pepper to taste
3 tbsp butter - 4 sprigs thyme, plus more for garnish
1/2 cup chicken broth, or more as needed

easy fixn'

Make oven happy at 425° Cut off ends of russet potatoes, stand potatoes on end, and peel potatoes from top to bottom with a sharp knife to make each potato into a uniform cylinder. Cut each cylinder in half crosswise to make 6 potato cylinders about 2 inches long.

Place potatoes into a bowl of cold water for about 5 minutes to remove starch from outsides; pat dry with paper towels.

Place a heavy oven-proof skillet (such as a cast iron skillet) over high heat. Pour in vegetable oil; heat oil until it shimmers slightly.

Place potato cylinders with best-looking ends into the hot oil, lower heat to medium-high, and pan-fry potatoes until well-browned, 5 to 6 minutes.

Season with salt and black pepper.

Flip the potatoes onto the opposite ends. As they cook, use a paper towel held with tongs to carefully blot out the oil from the skillet. Add butter and thyme sprigs to skillet. Pick up a thyme sprig with tongs and use it to paint butter over the top of the potatoes. Cook until butter foams and foam turns from white to a pale tan color. Season with more salt and pepper. Pour chicken stock into skillet.

Transfer skillet to preheated oven and cook until potatoes are tender and creamy inside, about 30 minutes. If potatoes aren't tender, add 1/4 cup more stock and let cook 10 more minutes. Place potatoes on a serving platter and spoon thyme-scented butter remaining in skillet over potatoes. Garnish with thyme sprigs. Let cool about 5 minutes before serving.

On the third Saturday of May, rain or shine, many residents open their homes and gardens to visitors from all over the east coast and beyond for

A Day In Old New Castle, the oldest operating house and garden tour in United States. Started in 1924, by a group of enterprising ladies from Immanuel Church on the Green, A Day In Old New Castle's mission was to share knowledge of life, art, history, and architecture in Colonial America. It also offered a day of fellowship and hospitality to and by the community as well as to raise funds for the preservation of the church and other historic buildings.

The New Castle Community Partnership, with the collaboration of many New Castle groups, organizations and individuals, has now taken on the continuation of this event but today all the funds raised are used to benefit New Castle non-profit organizations, churches and museums.

May 2020 will be the 96th year of A Day In Old New Castle. But to have a successful event day we need you, members of New Castle's community that are willing to give some time, talent, expertise, and elbow grease to produce an event that New Castle is uniquely noted for.

On Tuesday, October 29th, 6:30pm at the New Castle Court House Museum, the Day In Old New Castle Committee will have their kick-off meeting to start planning for our 2020 year. We invite you to join us and learn more about A Day In Old New Castle and the many ways you can be a part of this historic New Castle tradition.

Municipal Services Commission 2019 Fall Hydrant Flushing Program

The Municipal Services Commission Water Department will begin our Fall Fire Hydrant Flushing Program on Monday, October 21st. Flushing will begin at 7:30am and end at 3:00pm Monday through Friday taking approximately 10 business days to complete. Our Hydrant Flushing Program is important to our water system and is an integral part of our goal to deliver the safest and highest quality water possible. Additionally, it ensures fire protection is available by testing the operation of our hydrants.

The Municipal Services Commission schedules our flushing program during the early Fall when demands are lower using a carefully planned route to control the direction of flow in our system. Customers should not experience service interruptions during the flushing process.

The flushing process may cause some temporary water discoloration. There is no health hazard associated with the discolored water. If you notice discolored water, run several cold water taps at the same time until the water is clear. Avoid using your cold or hot water and doing laundry until you are sure the water is clear.

The Municipal Services Commission urges all residents to exercise caution while traveling around the hydrant flushing crews as water may accumulate in the flushing area.

Your understanding and cooperation during this process is appreciated. If you have questions or would like additional information, please contact the Municipal Services Commission Water Department at 302-323-2333 between 7:00am and 3:30pm Monday through Friday.

Kellogg's has announced a new limited-time cereal mix called All Together, created in recognition of the anti-bullying awareness campaign, Spirit Day. The larger "All Together" box contains six miniature cereal boxes, though unfortunately it is not exactly a Russian doll of breakfast carbs. It contains hits including Corn Flakes, Froot Loops, Frosted Flakes, Frosted Mini-Wheats, and Rice Krispies. And because Kellogg believes deeply in inclusivity, there's also Raisin Bran.

Bears needed!

Studies have shown that teddy bears have a positive impact when given to children who are experiencing some type of trauma. Many police departments throughout the United States have programs in which teddy bears are used to promote comfort to children in crisis.

The New Castle City Police are requesting donations of teddy bears to be used in moments when children we deal with need special care.

We appreciate the support of our citizens and businesses. Donations of teddy bears will be accepted at the New Castle City Police Headquarters.

Please email tina.shughart@cj.state.de.us with any questions.
