BOXING DAY takes its name from the ancient practice of opening boxes that contained money given to those who had given their service during the year. It was also the day when alms boxes, placed in churches on Christmas Day, were opened. The money was then given to the priest or used to help the poor and needy. Another name for Boxing Day used to be Offering Day.

A favorite Christmas story is not any of the usual. However a '59 or '60 Rod Serling's Twilight Zone. THE NIGHT OF THE MEEK, starring Art Carney as a down-on-his-luck department store Santa, who wants to forget the commercial aspects of the time of year and concentrate on the real meaning of the holiday. His performance is so heart-tugingly beautiful, when he finds a magic bag that will give everyone what he wants for a Christmas present. If you are still dry-eyed at the end, when Art Carney's one Christmas wish comes true, for all time, you must be a Scrooge indeed.

One More Gifting Idea

WHY WE TRACK SANTA

Christmas Eve, many of us tracked Santa's flight as have NORAD and its predecessor, the Continental Air Defense Command (CONAD).

The tradition began in 1955 after a Colorado Springs-based Sears Roebuck & Co. advertisement for children to call Santa misprinted the telephone number. Instead of reaching Santa, the phone number put kids through to the CONAD Commander-in-Chief's operations "hotline." The Director of Operations at the time, Colonel Harry Shoup, had his staff check the radar for indications of Santa making his way south from the North Pole. Children who called were given updates on his location, and a tradition was born.

In 1958, the governments of Canada and the United States created a bi-national air defense command for North America called the North American Aerospace Defense Command, also known as NORAD, which then took on the tradition of tracking Santa.

Since that time, NORAD men, women, family and friends have selflessly volunteered their time to personally respond to phone calls and emails from children all around the world. In addition, we now track Santa using the Internet. Millions of people who want to know Santa's whereabouts now visit the NORAD Tracks Santa website.

Finally, media from all over the world rely on NORAD as a trusted source to provide updates on Santa's journey. In Memory of Retired Colonel Harry Shoup NORAD's First Santa Tracker.
