July 23rd National Hot Dog Day

A favorite among kids and adults alike, hot dogs are one of the United States most popular foods. Detroit's claim to fame is the Coney dog, a natural casing frank topped with chili, onions, and mustard. Whether your favorite place is Duly's, American Coney Island, Lafayette, National the other thousands of islands statewide, chances are or any of coney you've tasted this iconic meal in a bun.

In an election year where nothing seems certain, Americans are frank about their top concession at the ballpark as the hot dog remains the favorite food for fans from Citizens Bank Park to San Francisco Bay.

According to the National Hot Dog and Sausage Council's 2012 report on Major League ballparks, Americans will consume 20.5 million hot dogs this season, enough to round the bases 28,489 times, and if laid end to end would stretch from the new Marlins Ballpark in Miami to Coors Field in Denver!

The first words that Walt Disney's immortal creation Mickey Mouse ever uttered in a cartoon were "hot dogs" (in "The Karnival Kid, 1929). The cartoons he was featured in were silent ones up until that point.

My star boarder and best friend for many years is now with her new best friend Amanda. Jessie now enjoys a vast screened in porch in the company to two senior kitties ...enjoying her retirement! Bless You Jessie
